The Racy Weekender

THE AMF 2100...

Through the knowledge and experience of Ted Hood, AMF Alcott Sailboats introduces the AMF 2100. This versatile, trailerable 21' sailboat is designed with the look and feel of an ocean racer. A lightweight lifting keel means you can launch into your favorite cruising area in just minutes. There is full sitting headroom with berths for four and the flush deck design provides an unusual amount of usable deck space.

For cruising the AMF 2100 offers top quality, dependable hardware like Barient winches, Harken fittings, Schaeffer blocks and Kenyon spars. Sail systems are led aft for easier control. The 7/8ths rig requires less muscle power and a smaller needed inventory of sails for cruising or racing. Equipment of two foresail halyards, bow pulpit, lifelines, navigational lights, outboard bracket, and gas tank storage area are standard.

The ease of trailering (something on everybody's mind these days) is enhanced by the fully retractable, lightweight daggerboard. The AMF 2100 has internal led ballast allowing it to ride low to the road and launch in as little as 12" of water. The 8' beam means you can trailer it anywhere and once there, only two persons are needed to step the black coated mast, and boom.

MEANS MORE VALUE

Whether you're planning to cruise or race the AMF 2100's expansive interior is really a plus. The spacious head area with privacy curtain is standard. A specially designed galley area can accommodate an Igloo cooler, portable sink and a variety of stoves. Large port lights have been placed to spread outside light throughout the boat and give you a panoramic view outside while you're escaping a spring shower. The standard cowl vent means positive ventilation below decks. Comfortable 3" foam cushions covered in attractive soft nylon are standard on the four full sized berths.

The AMF 2100 is available with full compliment of accessories for your own personalization. Custom made Hood sails for cruising or racing are readily available from your 2100 dealer.
