

ALBACORE

Manufacturer's comment:

The Albacore is a comfortable racing and day sailing boat which is stable enough to be left on a mooring, but light enough to dry sail.

She seats four adults comfortably on her bench type seats, yet can be handled easily by one person. Countless beginners have learned to sail using the Albacore.

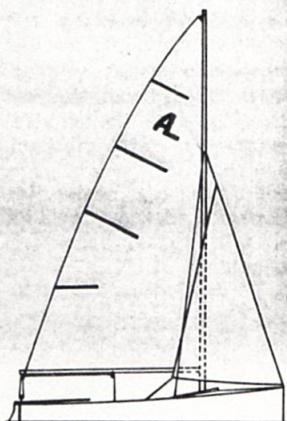

The Albacore is a fine performer with excellent handling characteristics—truly an exceptional design. She is fast in all winds, ghosting nicely along in the zephyrs and light airs and planing fast and under good control when the wind picks up.

The U.S. Albacore Association is one of the most active family racing organizations in the entire country. Through its aggressive efforts, the Albacore is rapidly becoming a familiar class in more and more sailing areas. At present there are more than 5,900 Albacores in the United States and Canada, with hundreds more being sold each year.

The Newport Albacore, built strictly to class specifications, represents the latest thinking of the same company that is famous for producing the winning Newport Finns, Flying Dutchman, and Lightnings.

Newport Boats has incorporated into its Albacore an advanced buoyancy and flotation system which minimizes any tendency to turn turtle in the event of a capsize, and makes the Newport Albacore easy to right.
