

BUCCANEER

The Buccaneer, popular class racer and day sailer, originally built by Chrysler, has now been updated and is better than ever. More than 5000 Buccaneers are located all over the country.

SUPPORTED BY AN ACTIVE CLASS ASSOCIATION

Racing is organized by the Buccaneer Class Association. The Association also publishes a quarterly newsletter featuring racing schedules, available used boats, tips on racing, improvements, and ideas. Strict class rules keep the cost of acquiring and competing in a Buccaneer within reasonable limits.

A DELIGHTFUL SAILING BOAT

The Buccaneer is a real thoroughbred, having been designed by Rod Macalpine-Downie and Dick Gibbs. Her hull shape, with its long easy entry and broad stern sections makes her easily driven to windward and quick to plane on the reaches. Surprising stable and dry, she is perfectly balanced and is a sweetheart to sail in all conditions. Her beautiful classic lines will continue to attract attention. Her speed is confirmed by a Portsmouth rating of 87.

WELL SUITED TO DAY SAILING

Her eight foot long cockpit, with comfortable bench seats and large storage compartments, make the Buccaneer a fine day sailer.

EASY TO RIG, LAUNCH, TRAIL AND HANDLE

Modern rigging and light weight makes mast-stepping, launching, and trailering a snap. The Buccaneer's construction with its sealed deck and hull make it easy to right in the event of a capsize. Her light weight permits easy trailering by compact cars.

BUILT BY EXPERIENCED SAILORS

The Buccaneer is made only by Cardinal Yachts, under the management of Harry R. Sindle, former Flying Dutchman champion and Olympic sailor, who has built hundreds of fine fiberglass racing sailboats such as Lightnings, Flying Dutchmen, Finns, Mobjacks, Jet 14s, and Albacores, since 1960.

CUSTOM BUILT TO YOUR FAVORITE COLOR SCHEME

Buccaneers are equipped with a roller furling jib, self-bailers, and a spinnaker launching tube. Since they are custom built, they can be made in your favorite color scheme. See the current price list for full specifications.
