

The Ericson/25 is not your average beginner's sailboat. It takes some experience or sophistication, or both, to appreciate our little yacht.

She's not as cheap as some. She doesn't have as much headroom as some. She takes a four-wheeled trailer instead of two. And she's never sold in distress, new or used.

But. For lovers she has the sweetest 5'6" interior of all the 25-footers, with berths for four big people, and a truly private head. For racers she rates 18.0 IOR, the magic number for Quarter-Ton racing. And for cheapskates she makes yachting a sound investment.

Okay, so what about so/lo in our headline? Just this: the Ericson/25 can be trailed, launched, rigged, sailed, and retrieved by just one man. Honest.

Think about that, lovers.

Ericson/25. The solo yacht for lovers, racers, and cheapskates.
