The Weeks Force 5

1996 marks the third year of building Force 5 sailboats at Weeks Yacht Yard. Our promise to all customers is top quality service and workmanship, high performance on the water and the best value for the dollar.

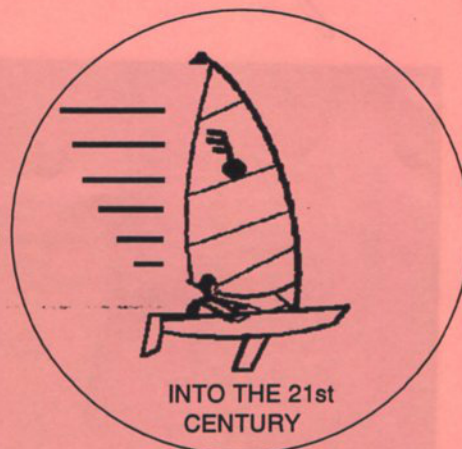

Designed in 1972 by AMF Alcort, over 12,000 boats have been built up to date. This fast high performance sailboat is perfect for daysailing or racing. The Force 5 has hard chine hull sections aft, a wide beam and a sharp bow making the boat stable and easy to sail. Full sail controls make for adaptation to all wind strengths. Whether sailing with two adults or as a single hander, the Force 5 seems to find its own groove. It's a small boat with a big boat feel. Try out the new zippered halyard sails for 1996.

All parts, as well as boats, are available through Weeks Yacht Yard. Some parts have had minor changes made to them, to make them stronger or work more efficiently. You'll find that anything that has changed, fits the older boats or is easily adaptable. We also specialize in Force 5 repairs, upgrades and restoration.

New boats come standard with the best hardware on today's market. Stock items are a complete Harken block package and traveler system, a 1996 "High Lift" mainsail, anodized aluminum spars, Ronstan X-10 tiller extension, Fabricraft hiking strap and other hardware from Ronstan, Schaeffer and Sea Dog.

Parts, repair kits, instruction books, class information and advice are all at your fingertips with the builder support hotline at Weeks Yacht Yard. All Force 5 owners are automatically added to the mailing list and will receive the quarterly newsletter "Builder's Beat". Weeks Yacht Yard has been building boats since 1898.

Force 5 is your ticket to daysailing adventure or your racing machine. Either way it is a boat for the nineties and for the 21st century. We'll see you on the water this season.
