

Legend 35

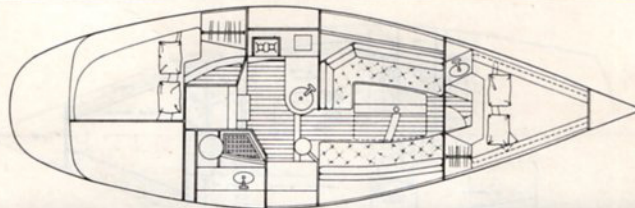

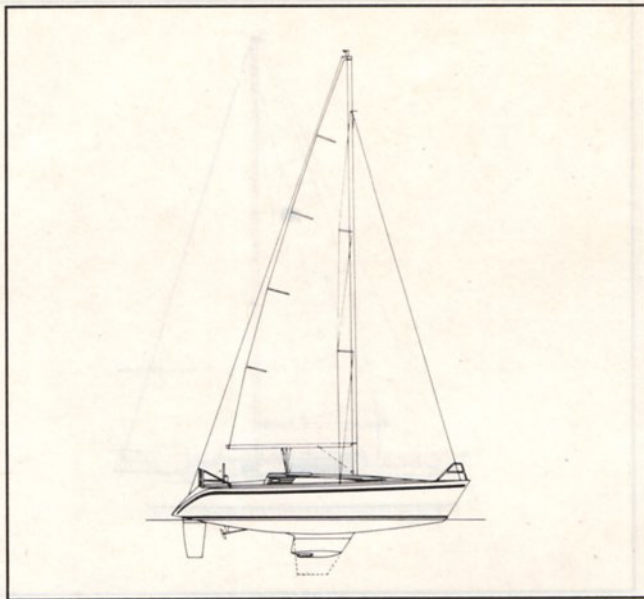

36'

Hunter sailors insist on a boat that has advanced-performance characteristics, and you'll find the Legend 35 packed with them.

The lead bulb-wing keel enhances your shoal-draft sailing by lowering the boat's center of gravity to allow more sail area-to-keel weight while adding lift when sailing to weather. The rigs are fractional with swept-back spreaders so you can have a larger main for reaching and running.

She also comes with recessed roller-furling gear, a Dutchman™ mainsail control system, two-speed sheet winches (self-tacking), self-tailing halyard winches, recessed genoa tracks with cars, and aluminum mast, boom, and winch.

The Legend 35 also has the new walk-through transom for ease of boarding, and with the fold-down stainless steel swim ladder, your favorite snorkeling place allows easier access on and off the boat with your gear.

Hunter's quality and engineering means you'll get a long and enjoyable life from your Legend 35.
