MARINER 32.....a tradition

Her sweet lines transport us to an era when hulls were planked to heavy scantlings and shaped by the hands of master craftsmen...to the era of wooden boats.

Mariner 32, more than any fiberglass yacht now in production, has earned the right to transport us back to that marvelous era. The Mariners were, after all, among the finest wooden yachts ever built.

The transition of the Mariner 32 to fiber-glass in the 1960's was a major achievement in yachting history. Few yachts were successful in this transition. Only Mariner retained its enormous popularity. Only Mariner continued crossing oceans.

Now in its third decade as a limited production cruising yacht, Mariner is still the standard to which ocean crossing sailboats are compared.

Heavy scantlings, shoal draft, full keel, easily managed rig, protected prop and rudder, big diesel, unparalleled comfort underway and at anchor.....a cruiser's dream.

Beautiful teak joinerwork, roomy salon, full working galley, storage everywhere, all the amenities.....a liveaboard's delight.

Whether you desire safe, comfortable offshore cruising, gunkholing in shoal waters or simply the thrill of sailing a legend, then Mariner 32 will win your heart and exceed your requirements.

The most modern fiberglass construction techniques; more than two decades of refinement and experience dating back to her birth in wood; a large inventory of quality standard equipment...all combine to continue Mariner's high regard among the finest cruising yachts in the world.

MARINER 32.....a tradition of excellence from a by-gone era...
still available,
now, to you.
