The spar is a tapered extrusion from Kenyon with an internal luff groove for less weight aloft providing a very flexible rig. Double spreaders, adjustable backstay and roller furling for the jib come standard on the complete boat.

Adjustable backrest and unitized cockpit give you the comfort & control needed while either day sailing or racing. Its unballasted hull weighs approximately 130 lbs and is easily carried by two people.

250 lbs of cast ballast comes divided in eight 30lb segments molded to fit in the efficient fin keel. Additional ballast is added by way of lead shot to bring total displacement to 590 lbs.
