

O'Day 240

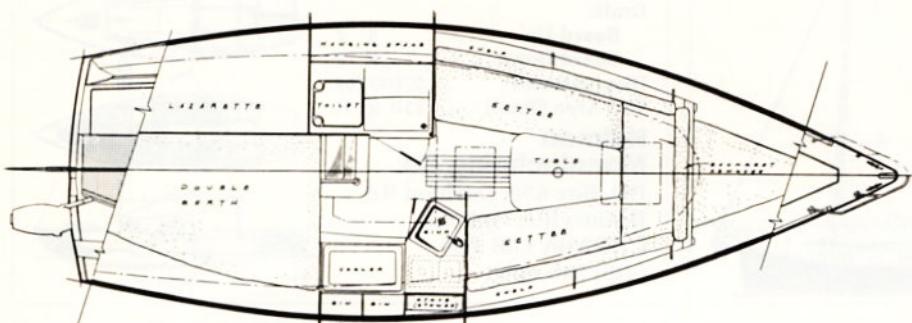

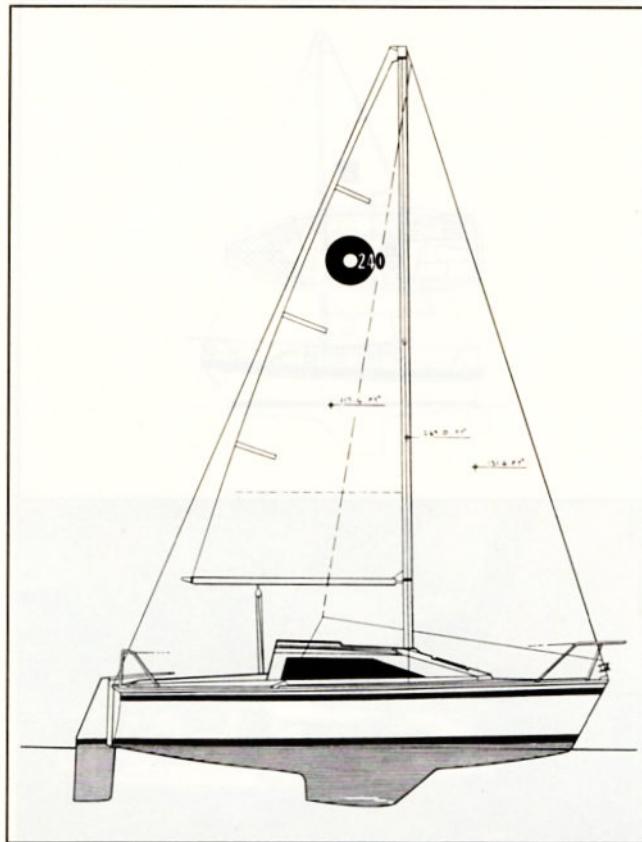

25'

There's simply no better family boat in its class. The O'Day 240 offers all the ease of handling our single sailor systems provide, along with all the space, comfort, and safety requirements today's sailing families are looking for.

On deck, the 240's sailplan offers a degree of simplicity matched only by its efficiency. Below the waterline, the 240's wing keel keeps the ballast low for more resistance to tipping, all while providing shoal draft. And the wing keel upwind performance eliminates much of the pitch and yaw of boats with a more traditional lead-ballast keel.

What's more, the wing keel draws as little as 32", making the 240 easily trailerable and able to be sailed right up to the beach.

And the 240's standard "big boat" equipment includes traveler, winches and jib-furling gear. Full lifelines and pulpits on the bow add confidence to the sailing family with safety in mind.

Belowdecks, the "big boat" feel continues with a fully enclosed head, a huge double berth in the aft cabin, two extendable single berths and a surprising amount of that rare commodity in cruisers, headroom.

A large center table seats four and is perfect for the inside activities that keep the little sailors happy on the occasional rainy day. The stand-up galley features a stainless steel sink, water tank, and a removable ice chest for pre-trip packing and island picnics.

The large ports and hatches offer a surprising amount of natural light along with increased ventilation. The bright and airy feel belowdecks is the product of the renowned interior and industrial design firm of Gunn Associates.

Overall, the O'Day 240 is as close as we've come in the past thirty years to achieving the perfect pocket cruiser/weekender. We're sure you'll agree.
