

REBEL

The dynamic 16' Rebel is one of the worlds best known fiberglass racing class sailboats. It has its own National Class Association, is universally accepted, and has earned the reputation as a "classic" sailboat.

To earn a name and reputation of this magnitude, there must be something very special about the Rebel, and there is! But this distinction does not just come from one feature, but rather from a combination of outstanding style, reliability, ruggedness and a high standard of performance that is second to none. It is as comfortable for a day of lazy sailing as it is competitive in rounding the marks. Her powerful fiberglass hull will fight it out with wind and waves and come out ahead, yet she's so well balanced that a puff of air will send her scudding.

Competitive sailors who race Rebel regularly, praise her quick response to the helm and her superb maneuverability, and their families like Rebel for her spacious cockpit that seats six easily and for her generous storage under the foredeck that makes day sailing a joy. Rebel can be righted easily and sailed away from a capsize.

You'll find it's really a lot of boat at a surprisingly low price!!!
