

SANTANA 20

Built By The
W.D. SCHOCK CORPORATION
-est. 1946-

Schock continues its fifty-one year tradition of building quality, family-oriented performance sailboats. Consider the new Santana 20, the definitive small keel boat beautifully packaged as a one-design family racer. "Affordable, easily trailered and very fun to sail" described the S-20 when W.D. Schock first introduced it in 1976. The description still applies today, but the boat is better than ever. A new deck features rounded cockpit seats and foot braces for the skipper and crew. Schock uses Harken hardware to accomplish the most complete and efficient deck layout of any race boat. A strong, growing, and friendly class association with established fleets around the country promotes and preserves the class through seminars, regattas, and social events.

Take advantage of the years of experience in one-design sailing built and promoted by the W.D. Schock Corporation by joining in the fun. Whether cruising with family and friends, handicap racing, or class racing, the Santana 20 cannot be matched as an affordable, easily trailered and fun to sail 20 foot boat.
